

What's New at SNG Barratt ?

Coming Soon!

SNG Barratt is expanding its Girling-branded hydraulic range for the Jaguar E-Type, with several new products scheduled to arrive over the coming months. New Girling Brake Servos (C26024G & C35564G) are currently in production and expected in October/November, followed by Girling Clutch Slave Cylinders (C29801G & C21470G) in mid-November. Plans are also progressing for the Girling "Tin Tank" Clutch Slave Cylinder, further strengthening the availability of OE-style hydraulic components for Jaguar enthusiasts and restorers worldwide.

SNG Barratt is pleased to confirm its attendance at Techno-Classica Dortmund this year, one of the largest events on the classic car calendar. Visitors will find the team on Stand 7B10, Hall 7, showcasing a wide range of Jaguar car parts and accessories, and available to discuss restoration projects, technical queries and parts sourcing.
